

James is a Neurology Consultant and Honorary Senior Lecturer at the Manchester Centre for Clinical Neuroscience, Salford. He is particularly interested in the evaluation of patients with complex neuromuscular syndromes, working as a member of the neuromuscular MDT at Salford and running the SMA assessment and treatment service. James has completed a PhD in inflammatory muscle disease and continues to develop a neuromuscular research portfolio at the Manchester Muscle Disease Unit.