

Pascoe is an Internal Medicine Trainee at Wythenshawe currently applying for registrar posts in Infectious Diseases, Microbiology, and Virology. His professional interests include antimicrobial stewardship and widening access to medicine. When not working as a doctor, he spends his time trawling through Manchester's many restaurants, and playing in a band every Sunday with his family.