

I am a consultant paediatrician with a special interest in High Dependency Care and Critical Care Transport at North Manchester General Hospital. I joined MMS to promote paediatrics as a career and to work with like-minded people to produce an excellent education programme with opportunities for students and junior doctors. When not at work, I enjoy swimming, growing my own veg, and cooking elaborate new recipes for friends.