

Thanos completed his Paediatric training in the North West Region of England and currently works as a Consultant Paediatrician at the East Lancashire Hospitals NHS Trust. He has a Special interest in Paediatric Oncology and Shared Care Services. He has experience in Undergraduate Education and has held an Expert Tutor role at the University of Central Lancashire, through which he delivered several teaching sessions to medical students. Currently, he is the the Foundation Year 1 Training Programme Director at ELHT. In his clinical management capacity , he works at the Deputy Clinical Director for Paediatrics, overseeing outpatient department productivity and efficiency. Outside work, he is a keen gardener and regularly contributes to community gardening projects.