

I am a third year medical student at the University of Manchester, currently based in Preston. I am interested in anesthesia as a future career. My hobbies outside of medicine include hiking and reading.