

Laurence works as a Respiratory and general medicine ST7 doctor at MFT. He is also an NIHR clinical lecturer at the University of Manchester conducting translational research in lung injury and fibrosis. Within both his research and clinical work Laurence is passionate about teaching and education.